Malcolm Area Farms Hit By Skipping Twister

A "now-you-see-it, now-you-don't" tornado rambled through the Malcolm area late Sunday afternoon leaving twisted debris on several farms and dumping a load of rain and hail.

State Patrol troopers and county sheriffs in Lancaster, Jefferson and Saline Counties followed the funnel, which the Patrol said seemed to "form, disappear and re-form."

Moving from northeast to southwest and "whipping like a snake," according to observers, it damaged several farm homes in an area about two miles north of Malcolm. Tornados usually appear from the southwest.

Just after 5 p.m., the funnel descended upon the Elmer Boldebuck farm, one mile north of Malcolm, where it smashed a machine shed and blew a large chicken coop off its foundation. Two grain elevators were jammed against trees.

"It looked just like a snake, jumping and whipping around as it came across the fields," Boldebuck told the Star.

Boldebuck said he and his family drove into Malcolm when it became apparent the funnel would cross their farm. He said he was working in a field just north of the house at the time.

An old house used for storing grain was completely demolished at the Warren Heidtbrink farm, one mile north of Malcolm. Trees felled by the wind crushed the cab of a truck parked near the house and blew the tail gate from the vehicle.

At the Adolph Lange farm, one and one-half miles north and one mile east of Malcolm, a wash house attached to the Lange home was blown down and pillars on the porch were damaged.

A Norris Public Power District spokesman said the only damage done to the District's lines by the storm occurred on the Lange farm.

The twister leveled a large corn crib on the Bill Leazenby farm two and one-half miles west of Raymond. Leazenby and others were baling hay at the time and ran from the field when the cloud approached.

The funnel, which was reported as being 6-10 miles west of Lincoln, showered the Huskerville-Emerald area with light rains and hail which measured up to one-inch in diameter.

From the Malcolm area, the funnel cloud moved to the Dorchester area, and was reportedly moving southwesterly from Dorchester at about 15-20 miles an hour.

Tornado activity was also sighted in the Wilber, Crete and Milligan areas, but the funnel apparently did not touch ground.

Heavy hail was reported about 1½ miles east of Raymond at the Donald Stearns farm. The extent of damage to the corn in the area was not determined.

Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. workmen said that lightning apparently struck the Malcolm-Lincoln telephone lines, cutting service between the two points.

In Lincoln, the temperature dropped from 87 when the funnel was first reported about 5 p.m. to 72 at 6 p.m.

Residents of Huskerville reported hail which lasted about 5 minutes, followed by a gentle rain. Lincoln received .04 inch of precipitation, the Weather Bureau said.

Ike, Macmillan Eye Firm, Flexible Line

Unify Positions On Many Issues

Chequers, England (UPI) — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan have reached broad agreement on a "firm but flexible" line to be taken by the President in talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, diplomatic sources disclosed Sunday night.

In their "little summit" conference, the U.S. and British leaders agreed that, in his talks with Khrushchev, the President should take a firm stand on basic principles but should indicate the West's continued willingness of negotiate toward a cold war settlement, the sources said.

The agreement was reached in a weekend of top-secret talks between the two western leaders, who interrupted their morning conference to go to church to pray for divine guidance in their crucial deliberations.

Drive To Oxford

Eisenhower and Macmillan then took off this evening on a surprise sightseeing tour of the ancient university town of Oxford. They joined lines of other Sunday motorists on the main Oxford road, giving no one notice of their plans and making no advance security preparations.

The U.S. and British leaders were said to have agreed that in addition to a possible summit meeting or meetings with Khrushchev, the West should drive hard to get simultaneous negotiations on specific issues at lower levels.

The issues covered would include Berlin, disarmament and a nuclear testing ban.

The sources said the President and prime minister found themselves in close agreement on the situation in both the Middle East and Far East, where the Communists have recently been applying additional pressure.

British sources disclosed that Macmillan indicated to Eisenhower that Britain no longer intends to exert any pressure on the U.S. to recognize Red China or admit it to the United Nations. Britain will back the U.S. in blocking China's admission at the forthcoming General Assembly meeting in September, the sources said.

Macmillan's and Eisenhower's sightseeing tour gave them an additional two hours of complete privacy for talks in their closed Rolls-Royce limousine.

Rurals Set Power Rate Hike Study

By Betty Person

The 27 cost-of-service public power districts which purchase their power from the Nebraska Public Power System Sunday approved a study of the new rate contracts with NPPS scheduled to go into effect Sept. 1.

Approval of the rate study came at a meeting of the power supply committee of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association which opened its two-day semi-annual convention in Lincoln Sunday at the Cornhusker Hotel.

H. Zender and Associates, engineering consulting firm employed by the rurals, will make the study to determine how the new power rates will affect each of the 27 rural districts.

Begin Soon

Lester Trussell of Beatrice, manager of the Norris Public Power District and member of the NPPS board of managers, said he would contact the engineering firm immediately and that he expects the study to begin within a week or 10 days.

A. L. Chantry of West Point, also a member of the NPPS board of managers, said study "should not take very long" because "most of the groundwork" has been completed.

Representatives of the rural public power districts were reluctant to say too much about how they think the new NPPS rates will affect their individual districts.

'Clarify Doubts'

Lyle Marotz of Hoskins, president of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association, voiced their general position when he said, "We don't know exactly what to think of the new rates, but we expect Zender to clarify a lot of doubts we have now."

The new rate schedule approved last week by the Loup River Public Power District and Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District, joint operators of NPPS, would call for an average cost increase of 1½% over the average paid last year.

The new rates would be in effect until Dec. 31, 1962.

Different Formula

The new rates are based on a different formula of a load-factor arrangement which has brought disagreement from some quarters.

York County Rural Public Power District has filed an injunction against NPPS charging the new rate schedule is discriminatory against their district which has to purchase power in heavy supply over a short period of time for irrigation purposes. A hearing on that suit has been postponed until Sept. 4.

Custer County Public Power District is the only one of the 27 cost-of-service agencies which has not signed a new requirements power contract with the NPPS.

John Evans of the Custer District said Custer "has made an offer" to NPPS, but said no action has been taken on it as yet by NPPS.

Another Sargent Lass Is Miss Nebraska REA

Miss Virginia Olson, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Olson of Sargent, was crowned "Miss Nebraska Rural Electrification" at the second annual REA Beauty Pageant Sunday night.

Competing as "Miss Custer Public Power District," Miss Olson was crowned by "Miss Rural Electrification of America" Miss Yvonne Young, also of Sargent. Miss Young is the immediate past "Miss Nebraska Rural Electrification."

The vivacious new queen, gowned in a pale aqua formal, was presented a bouquet of roses and a $50 savings bond by the Association.

Miss Olson will be a senior at Broken Bow High School this year and plans to enter the University of Nebraska to major in home economics next year.

Attending the queen were Miss Patricia Cunningham, "Miss Cornhusker Rural Public Power District," 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cunningham of Cedar Rapids, and Miss Vickie Krueger, "Miss South Central Membership Association," 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Krueger of Davenport.

The pageant followed a smorgasboard of the Nebraska REA who are holding their semi-annual meeting in Lincoln.

Robbery, Rape At Offutt Reported

Omaha, Neb. (AP) — A man and woman parked just south of Offutt Air Force Base near here were robbed and the woman raped late Sunday night, according to the State Safety Patrol.

The robbers locked the man in the trunk of the car after robbing him, it was reported. The woman was later taken to Douglas County Hospital where it was verified that she had been raped, the Patrol said.

Crash Claims Life Of 2nd Omaha Lad

Omaha (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Michael R. Anderson of Omaha died Sunday of injuries suffered in a one-car accident in north Omaha last Wednesday.

Stephen Coerper, 15, of Omaha died earlier of injuries received when the car driven by Anderson went out of control and smashed into supports of a railroad overpass.

The death raised Nebraska's 1959 traffic fatality toll to 226, compared with 208 at this time last year.

Adenauer Pens Reply To Nikita

Bonn (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, in a mild reply to Soviet Premier Khrushchev, has denied West Germany seeks revenge for territorial losses and that he hates communism.

The personal letter to Khrushchev, written after Adenauer's long talks here last week with President Eisenhower, appealed to the Soviet leader to resume negotiations with the West on controlled disarmament in both the nuclear and conventional weapons fields.

The Adenauer note appeared to push aside such problems concerning Germany as Berlin and reunification — on which the Eastern and Western powers deadlocked at Geneva — and put forward disarmament as a field in which East-West agreement might be possible.

Eisenhower and Adenauer listed disarmament first in the communique on their talks.

The chancellor's letter, published Sunday, was a reply to one from Khrushchev on Aug. 18 which boasted that the Soviet Union was more powerfully armed than the U.S.

Gang Slays 2

Attack Teen-Agers In NY Playground

New York (AP)—Police Sunday night picked up 3 suspects in the Hell's Kitchen slaying of two teenaged boys in a darkened playground.

Police also searched for 6 other young men known as prime suspects. None was identified.

Two boys were stabbed to death and 3 other youths injured early Sunday when they were set upon by a band of teenagers led by a youth wearing a black cape and carrying an umbrella.

The victims said the attackers shouted: "We don't allow gringos near the park." "Gringo" is a word of contempt sometimes used by Spanish-speaking peoples to describe North Americans.

Five boys and a girl had been to the movies and were sitting on the benches in the unlighted playground on Manhattan's West Side when they were attacked.

Two 16-year-old boys, Tony Krzesinski and Robert Young, fatally wounded, stumbled into adjoining buildings across the street, where they collapsed and died before horrified tenants.

Others Hurt

An 18-year-old boy, Ewald Riemer, was stabbed in the abdomen. He was later reported in satisfactory condition at a hospital.

The 14-year-old girl, Sandy Luken, who was accompanied by her brother, escaped unharmed. Her brother, Harold, 16, was struck on the head with a bottle during the melee. He was later treated at a hospital and released. All involved were white.

The deaths brought to 4 the number of teen-agers slain by gang violence in the last 8 days. Last Sunday a 15-year-old Negro girl was shot to death and a 14-year-old boy was fatally stabbed as rival gangs broke a two-year truce and warred on Manhattan's Lower East Side.

About 50 detectives swarmed into and around the playground soon after the slayings. Later Sunday they had rounded up and were questioning more than 40 persons.

Dalai Lama:

Tibet Needs U.N. Aid

New Delhi (AP) — The exiled god king of Tibet appealed to the United Nations Sunday to take up Chinese Communist suppression in his remote mountain kingdom. He declared "the suffering of my people is beyond description."

The Dalai Lama's surprise statement was issued as Prime Minister Nehru, worried by Chinese Communist incursions on India's frontiers, scheduled a week of conferences with leaders of states bordering Tibet.

There were no new reports of fighting between Chinese Communist troops from Tibet and Indian border guards in India's northeast territory, where an Indian rifleman was killed by the intruders Thursday. A defense ministry spokesman said published reports of a new battle was "a figment of fanciful imagination."

But Indian army regulars were on the move into the region to replace the frontier guards and Gen. K. S. Thimmayya, Indian army chief of staff, was in command of northeast operations.

Surprise Appeal?

It was not known whether the Dalai Lama raised the Tibetan issue at this delicate time with the foreknowledge of Nehru.

Nehru will confer with the Dalai Lama Wednesday when the latter arrives from Mussoorie, his Indian hilltop home in exile.

Reports from Mussoorie said the Dalai Lama will ask Nehru to confer emigre government status on his entourage. Nehru previously refused to consider this for fear of offending Red China.

2,000 Names On Anti-East Airport List

The "protest petition" drive against the new municipal airport east of the city has netted more than 2,000 signatures at the end of the first week, C. O. Blanchard said Sunday.

Blanchard, who is spearheading the petition drive, estimates some 100 petitions are in circulation. He estimates they are averaging 25 to 30 signatures per petition so far.

The petition drive, aimed at more than 10,000 signatures, is to end Sept. 15.

The petitions are to be presented to the Lincoln Airport Authority. They are to be an "expression of public opinion" and have no legal effect.

Rural Electric Record Praised

. . . Repayments Ahead $7 Million

By Walt Switzer

David A. Hamil, Rural Electrification Administrator, in Lincoln to address the Nebraska REA's semi-annual conference noted that this state has a fine record in the REA program.

He said that Nebraska borrowers are nearly $7 million ahead of schedule in paying off loans and that no payments were overdue.

Since Hamil became administrator in 1956 the state has received $48 million in general loans and $35 million in generation and transmission loans.

Elaborating on Nebraska's participation in the REA program he pointed out that 80% of the state's rural areas are served by REA compared with only 7% served in 1935.

Still topping the list of problems for state power producers according to Hamil is a need for an outlet to keep the production level in the state on an even keel.

"Because of the heavy summer time load needed for irrigation a new market, such as selling power to neighboring states, is required to keep production facilities operating at capacity in the winter," Hamil said.

The administrator said he was very glad to do anything he could to help the Nebraska borrowers, noting that, "anything that helps Nebraska enhances our loan."

Hamil, at native of Colorado, he now makes his home at Atwood, Colo., claims Nebraska as his second home. He is a graduate of Hastings college and a former Cozad businessman.

Committee Of NRREA Dissolved

. . . Assn's. OK Needed

By Betty Person

The power supply committee of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association voted 16-3 Sunday to dissolve the present committee under the state association and form a new one under the Nebraska Electric Generation & Transmission Co-operative or its successor.

The vote came in the form of a resolution which must be approved by the entire state association Monday before it could become effective.

The resolution was adopted at the conclusion of a lengthy and heated meeting of the committee which heard some vigorous protests to G&T's designation as the bargaining agent for the 27 cost-of-service public power districts which are customers of the Nebraska Public Power System.

Agencies voting against resolution were the Custer County Public Power District, McCook Public Power District and York Country Rural Public Power District.

Objection Voiced

Their objections centered on the contention that turning their power supply problems over to G&T would put them in the position of bargaining with the agency which would be supplying power.

G&T has made a second application to the Nebraska Department of Water Resources to become a public power district, a hearing on which is scheduled Sept. 9.

Roy Speece of York, manager of the York District, pointed out that the "rurals fathered the G&T which is now a co-operative," but added that it appears it will become a public power district in the near future.

In 1943 he drafted Senate File 310, the first public power law in Nebraska, which is still in effect.

He was the attorney for the Cornhusker Rural Public Power District, and in 1958 was presented with a certificate and plaque in appreciation of his long years of service to the Norris District and his contributions to public power in Nebraska.

He had served as president of the Native Sons and Daughters of Nebraska and the Lancaster County Bar Association. He was a member of the American and Nebraska Bar Associations.

Graduating from the University of Nebraska in 1913 with a B.A. Degree and in 1916 with a LL.B, he practiced law in Lincoln for over 40 years.

Surviving him are his wife Annis S. of Lincoln; sons, Robert C. of New York City, Thomas C. and Theodore C., both of Washington D. C., and Philip C. of Lincoln; daughter, Mrs. Ruth C. Singer of San Jose, Costa Rica; 5 brothers; 3 sisters, 10 grandchildren.

Sorensen Praised For Devotion To Public Power

Lyle Marotz of Hoskins, president of the Nebraska Rural Electric Assn., Sunday expressed the association's regret over the passing of C. A. Sorensen.

Stating that Mr. Sorensen was "one of the fathers of rural public power in Nebraska," Marotz noted his "dedication to the principle of public power."

"His advice and counsel will be sorely missed," Marotz said.

Kiwanis Club Aids County Youth

Service organizations in Nebraska do much to promote the state's farming industry.

The Kiwanis Club of Lincoln has kicked off a program designed to promote better agricultural practices among Lancaster County youth.

A start was made last year when the club distributed 4 registered ewes to county youth. In 1959, 4 registered gilts were placed. In the future, the club hopes to place cattle.

William H. Mann, agriculture committee chairman, explains the purpose of the project is twofold—first is the development of livestock breeding and production of better quality stock; more important is the aim of youth conservation.

Perpetuates

The project is designed to perpetuate itself and grow in scope each year. Each of the 4-H and FFA members given a gilt or ewe will turn back to Kiwanis one of a kind from the original animal's offspring. These will be distributed in turn to other youngsters.

Participants in the project are selected upon recommendation of 4-H and FFA leaders in the county. The first 4 ewes went to 4-H members, while the gilts were equally divided between 4-H and FFA members.

In the case of the yearling ewe, the recipient agrees to carry insurance on the animal. Ewe and offspring must be exhibited at the Lancaster County Fair. Where sheep are concerned, this means two years, but only one year with swine. Good management practices are required.

A written progress report is submitted to Kiwanis each year.

Returns

Where swine are concerned, the recipient agrees to return a bred gilt at the end of a year, if 8 or more pigs are raised. He also agrees to showing at the fair and to follow good management practices.

Members of the committee include:

County Agent Cyril Bish; J. Fred Anderson; Arthur F. Christensen; Elmer L. Christiansen; Don M. Culbertson, U.S. Geological Survey; A. W. Epp, College of Agriculture; Allard E. Folsom, Irving Junior High principal.

Edmund F. Francke; Herbert D. Forke; Arthur E. Hughes; Wallace M. Neil; Owen C. Perry; Robert A. Puelz; J. J. Refshauge; Elmer C. Schlaphoff; John C. Steele, College of Agriculture; Charles L. Warner; Ed M. Weaver Jr.; and Dale E. Weese.

Savings Bond Sales Reported

Lincoln and Lancaster county sales in the 1959 Share in America Savings Bond campaign totaled $5,240,041 from January through July, the final report shows. This is 63.5% of the $8,250,000 quota.

Overall sales for the state for 1959 were $64,807,250 or 69.3% of a $93,500,000 quota.

Glenn Yaussi, general chairman of the drive, reported that the realization for the state this year was 4.8% ahead of last year.

Blaze At York Razes Elevator

. . . 4 Fire Departments Join Efforts

York, Neb. (UPI)—A 55 thousand bushel elevator filled nearly to capacity with corn and wheat was destroyed by fire Sunday morning.

It took firemen from York, Bradshaw, McCool Junction and Waco more than two hours to bring the blaze under control. They were hampered by low water pressure and crowding spectators.

Warehouses adjoining the huge York Milling and Elevator Co. structure were damaged.

The fire, which apparently started at the bottom of the elevator, quickly spread up the wood and galvinized iron structure.

Fireman Hospitalized

One fireman, Don Kamtz, was hospitalized, but was reported in good condition.

Lee Vineyard, manager and part-owner of the company, said he could make no immediate estimate of the loss. He said he had no idea what caused the fire.

The office at the base of the elevator was also destroyed. Heat prevented Vineyard from getting into the office in an attempt to rescue records before the flames closed in.

Vineyard said it was the 3rd elevator on the site to be destroyed by fire.

York Welcomes Lutheran Vicar

York, Neb. (AP)—Dennis Paap was officially welcomed Sunday evening as new vicar at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church of York.

Paap received his bachelor's degree at Concordia Seminary in St. Louis in 1958 after attending Concordia College in Milwaukee, Wis. for two years.

He succeeds Donald Reed, who has served the past year. Reed is returning to Springfield, Ill. to complete his theological training at the Illinois Seminary.

Soss Named Chief

McCook, Neb. — Sgt. Glenn Soss, 55, a 15-year veteran of the McCook Police Department has been elevated to the position of police chief here.

31 University Students Start 1,500-Mile Tour

. . . Set By Block And Bridle Club

Thirty-one University of Nebraska students will roll out of bed Monday morning to start a 1,500 mile tour of livestock interests in Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado.

The 4-day tour was set up by the Block and Bridle Club at the College of Agriculture. Main purpose of the tour is to acquaint students with livestock production in the 3 states, according to Dr. Ernest R. Peo Jr., Club advisor and assistant professor of animal husbandry at the College.

"Emphasis is not placed on cattle alone but all aspects of the livestock industry," Dr. Peo said. "Top notch producers of cattle, swine, sheep, and horses are being visited in the three-state area."

The tours are held periodically in different areas, Dr. Peo explained. This year's tour includes stops through central and western Nebraska plus eastern Wyoming and Colorado. A tour two years ago took participants through the Sand Hills and the northern part of Nebraska.

The tour will move Tuesday to western Nebraska.

Students taking part in the tour—all from Nebraska—include:

3 People Hurt In Stromsburg Smashup Reported Improving

From Press Reports

Stromsburg, Neb.—Three young people injured in a head-on collision near Stromsburg, in which 6 died, were reported getting along pretty well Sunday.

JoAnn Madsen, 21, of Dell Rapids, S.D. was reported "getting along fine" in a Stromsburg hospital.

Ernesto Uresti, 16, of Mercedes, Texas, reported critical after the accident, was said to be a little improved in an Osceola hospital.

Nebraska News

The third of the injured, Esther Jilpas, 17, of Mercedes, was reported in "fair" condition at an Osceola hospital.

Dead

Killed in the crash were Jo Anne Hagg, 20, of Dell Rapids, S.D., believed to have been driving one of the cars; Janice Breen, 18, of Canton, S.D., a passenger; Judy Sunde of Sioux Falls, S.D., also a passenger; Hector Jilpas, 16, of Mercedes, believed to have been the driver of the second car; Juan Uresti, 20, of Mercedes, a passenger, and Mrs. Dominga Jilpas, 19, of Mercedes, also a passenger.

It was the second time that the Hagg girl's parents had lost a daughter in a traffic accident. Mr. and Mrs. Hilding Hagg lost a daughter during the Christmas holidays in 1952 in a highway crash.

Authorities at Strombsburg said they did not know what caused the accident. They said neither car left any skid marks before the headon collision.

Another Nebraskan, Floyd Farley, 51, of Stromsburg died over the weekend of injuries suffered Aug. 9 in a two-car collision near Columbus.

Hospital attendants said he suffered internal injuries.

The weekend deaths raised the traffic toll for the year to 225, 17 more than at the same time last year

WELCOME TAG OUT FOR THIEVES

Fremont, Neb. (AP) — The welcome tag for thieves remains on cars parked in downtown Fremont.

And Police Chief Robert Millard's repeated request that car owners remove the keys from their cars apparently has gone unheeded.

One observer checked 17 cars parked in one block of downtown Fremont and found keys in 6 of them.

Millard said a person who leaves keys in his car is inviting someone to steal it.

Who Cares About Heat?

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

For the fellow who gets all keyed up and can't seem to find a spirit of relaxation or the man who is exhausted after a hard day's work, a short drive outside the city limits is a might good cure. Among other things, it will convince you that there is nothing wrong with these hot summer days.

If you think differently, just ask any little boy or girl you might see along the country roads. Two little girls walking along together were chatting with each other. The temperature may have been 95 degrees but the one little girl still carried a small puppy in her arms. It was just a plain black pup with a few white spots mixed in for the novelty of it but that pup had the happiest look on its face. Of course, the dog could have walked and there was a leash tied to its collar but its master no doubt concluded the animal was tired from what had probably been a long hike.

Two Girls And A Pup

It wasn't a hot, stuffy day for those two little girls—just a wonderful afternoon with nothing to do but run and play. And the boy who came riding by on his bicycle had a towel rolled up and tied on the front fender of his bike. No question about what he had in mind.

It would have been fun to follow him to the secret swimming hole he was headed for and then to jump right in with him. He would have welcomed you, too, as little boys haven't yet developed the possessive instincts to turn a stranger away. They want to be friends with everybody and will be until the friendship is ruined by something of which they have no part.

The temperature was still near the 95-degree mark but the boy pumped his bike with a vengeance. He perspired freely but it didn't mean a thing to him. After all, if it wasn't hot, he wouldn't be able to go swimming. No sooner had this boy passed by than along came one with a bamboo pole over his shoulder. A string hung loosely along the pole, firmly attached to the slender end. A red and white plastic ball bobbed along about halfway down the string.

In the other hand was a can. The boy was whistling and stepping along at a lively pace. The heat wasn't going to slow him down for he was obviously going fishing. He may only catch a couple of bullheads, maybe a small mudcat, but that isn't the important thing to him. He just likes sitting there under a tree as the cool water trickles along over his feet.

He may even spend a little time tryin to catch a big frog. The frog keeps jumping into the water but you know he always has to come back out for air. Sooner or later you will spot a little ways up or down the bank where he jumped in. But despite the care taken in approaching the frog, he always leaps into the stream before you can get your hands on him.

There is no real point to it as the boy would just turn the frog loose if he did catch him but it does make for excitement. Out in the fields you pass on your drive, you will see that the heat hasn't stopped the farmer from caring of his crops.

There are no weeds in the straight corn rows and the farmer can generally be seen doing some kind of outside work. Air-conditioning is a luxury his way of life does not permit him to enjoy during the heat of the day. But his constitution is such that he doesn't think he is missing much, either. As far as he is concerned, there is nothing wrong with that bright sun as it makes the corn grow tall. A little rain mixed in now and then is a big assistance but the farmer is confident that in its time, the rain will come to soothe the parched earth.

Sunshine Means Corn

But the passing parade isn't confined to human participants. Before you hit the city limits again, a wide variety of animals have crossed your path. A rabbit has skipped by, a field rodent has scurried from one side of the road to the other, a pheasant has darted in front of you, a crow escapes your path with his usual cautious haste, doves have been perched along the way on the roadside wires and you have narrowly avoided several stupid chickens which couldn't make up their minds which way to go. It's a real panorama you've seen and worth a darn sight more than many things you've paid $2 to see from the balcony.

Real Or Expedient?

Disturbing news from India reports that Chinese communists are violating India's borders in the Tibet area.

That neutral India is finding neutrality harder and harder with its Red neighbors is revealed in a number of significant instances. It provided asylum for the Dalai Lama of Tibet after the Reds had overrun that country and installed their puppet, the Panchen Lama as head of the Tibetan faith. Only recently it ordered the expulsion of a Communist administration in Kerala, an Indian state, on the grounds that it had perverted democratic principles.

Now according to New Delhi, Chinese Red forces have been driving back India's frontier guards and establishing Chinese rule in the acquired areas. These are serious breeches of the China-India co-existence pact signed in 1954.

The situation is too cloudy yet to determine whether the Chinese violations constitute an opening of a war to bring India into the Chinese orbit. If it is it makes a mockery of any position of neutralism and is cause for India to reappraise its whole position.

But it is always Communist technique to stir up a crisis at any critical point in East-West relations. The pattern of Quemoy and Matsu in conjunction with the Near East crisis, a similar companion piece during the early heat of the Berlin crisis suggests that the Reds are preparing the pressures for the forthcoming Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting. Perhaps, perhaps not. But the routine of the past advises one to defer judgment of the China-India matter until it becomes more clear what it is actually related to.

A Wedge For Peace

The Department of Commerce has proposed to dispose of the 1,800 American-made items composing the American exhibition to Moscow in the Russian market, Russia being willing.

The people of the United States are willing. The cost of returning the items renders their domestic resale value doubtful. Besides the retention of the American-made products in Russia would continue the influence of the exposition far beyond the time of its closing.

Indeed, a long range look at a more expanded trade program with Russia is provocative. Embargoes and restrictions have proved ineffective as a defense measure. Despite all of the trade strictures applied to Russia by the West, the Russians have succeeded in matching and even overmatching the western countries in military preparedness.

It is to America's interest to create a greater desire among the Russian people for the facilities for better living. It creates a strong counterforce against a military-minded government. Peace is reinforced when a people become occupied distributing their own wealth rather than conspiring to sieze and distribute the wealth of an adversary.

While the Moscow exposition certainly had in mind a showing of the good western life for the purpose of countering communist propaganda to the contrary, but the exposition in Moscow was not for the sole purpose of improving Russian perspective. It did desire to encourage Russian people to demand the improvement of their own lives before setting forth to destroy the gains of others.

As to marketing the exposition items in Russia the most formidable barrier will not be the dollar loss to this country, but rather the resistance of the Russian hierarchy to catering to a popular Russian idea contrary to the agressive schemes of an expanding empire.

More From The Derrick Than Oil

Petroleum in its modern meaning was discovered 100 years ago at Titusville, Pennsylvania which makes this year the occasion for a centennial observance.

So far the year has produced several good books on the story of the development of the American oil industry and has caused the Independent Petroleum Association of America to shower the country with interesting facts and figures on the rise of petroleum.

Petroleum was by no means a natural substance unknown to man before 1857. Ancient history tells of it seeping out of the ground in various places, being considered by some a divine gift, by others a handy article for medicinal purposes, roof patching and war making. Americans knew it largely as Seneca oil, too smelly and smoky for interior illumination, but good for what ailed you if you were a patent medicine buff.

Some distillation experiments that successfully produced kerosene from crude and proved that petroleum was the answer to a diminishing whale oil supply for illumination sent pioneers into the Titusville area where surface seepage was heavy and pond skimming was a handy source of supply. A well drilled by Col. Drake was a success and as the first barrel of the oil flowed out of the well the oil and gas age began with a flourish. The hunt for oil has never lost its excitement, its daring nor its fabulous rewards for the lucky ones.

The results have been astonishing. In 100 years the quest for oil has uncovered 100 billion barrels of reserve, produced 60 billion barrels, drilled 1,700,000 wells, to say nothing of financing $110 billion of progress and change, some of it at the expense of world peace and the coal business. In 1900 coal supplied 85 per cent of the nation's energy demand. Last year coal supplied 25 per cent, petroleum 67 per cent.

Without oil there wouldn't be automobiles, airplanes, or much of a cement industry, and certainly none of the amazing variety of modern medicines and materials resulting from petroleum chemistry. In fact without petroleum we would hardly recognize the country and what we would see wouldn't be a smidgin to what we have.

For years the experts said Nebraska would never have oil. Well, last year 11 counties in Nebraska averaged 64,422 barrels of oil every 24 hours. The relatively new fields have already produced more than 100 million barrels and have 1,400 wells. The expected production in 1959 has been estimated at 20.3 million barrels.

Such new wealth and such future prospects prompt Nebraska to join in the petroleum centennial with all the fervor a dignified state can.

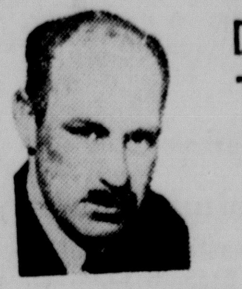
Republicans Snub Hawaii Democrat



WASHINGTON — Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, who has been hearing a lot of talk recently about "secondary boycotts" in labor legislation, almost staged a primary boycott of his own against the White House. Rayburn was furious when he learned that his friend, John A. Burns, retiring Democratic delegate to Congress from Hawaii, has not been invited to the White House for the signing of Hawaii's statehood proclamation.

"In that case, I won't go myself," exploded the Texan. "No one has done more to achieve statehood for Hawaii than Jack Burns and no one has a better right to be present at the proclamation signing. Yet he wasn't invited to the White House because he is a Democrat. Well, if they're counting Jack Burns out, they can count me out also."

When Burns heard about this he hastened to the speaker's office, finally prevailed on him to change his mind and attend the ceremony, but only after a long and impassioned appeal.

"I appreciate your friendly support, Mr. Speaker," he argued, "but forget about me. I can withstand the snub. This thing is bigger than any one personality. In the interest of Hawaii and its people —and for my sake—I am asking you to go to the White House on this occasion."

Rayburn went. However, his Texas temper hadn't subsided even when President Eisenhower, with a beaming smile, offered pens used in the proclamation signing to Rayburn and other leaders. Looking Ike straight in the eye, Mr. Sam refused the pen the President proffered.

"I don't believe I want that," he said crisply.

As he walked away, young Rep. Daniel Inouye, new Democratic congressman-elect from Hawaii, whispered:

"Mr. Speaker, maybe Jack Burns would like that pen."

"Maybe he would at that," agreed the speaker. "He's certainly entitled to it."

Whereupon Sam walked back and told Eisenhower: "I'll take that pen, after all. I'd like to give it to Jack Burns."

Note—Later Rayburn gave Interior Secretary Fred Seaton, who also attended the ceremony, a vigorous bawling out for the Burns snub. "I don't know who was responsible and I'm not blaming you personally, but this was inexcusable and pretty small, if you ask me," he told Seaton. "The White House deliberately ignored the man who had the most right to be here today."

Europe Warms To Ike Smile

LONDON—In his extraordinary triumphal tour of Europe President Eisenhower is proving that the glow of the Eisenhower symbol—the leader-hero who liberated Europe—has the old power to evoke the warmest kind of response in the hearts of millions of Europeans.

No one who saw and heard the crowds that greeted him in the soft summer dusk as he drove from London airport can doubt the nature of that response. Shortly before he set out on this adventure in personal diplomacy he said he believed that the Eisenhower name still meant something and he intended to put it to the test on a round of world travel. Just what his goals may be in evoking the old emotional atmosphere is far from clear at this point.

Yet, it is possible to see at least some tentative objectives. First, no matter what assurances he may have given Chancellor Adenauer in Bonn about the "lost territories" and a divided Germany, Eisenhower gives every indication of believing that the status quo must be accepted. In his German press conference he skillfully avoided being drawn into discussion of boundaries and territories.

Second, he has accepted, given the nature of nuclear holocaust, the inevitable necessity of working toward peaceful coexistence in his remaining months in the White House. Both in public and in private he reacts strongly to any suggestion that nuclear war will come sooner or later.

Third, and perhaps most important of all, he is hopefully bidding for cooperation from Nikita Khrushchev. This is conspicuous in the decision announced by the State Department over the opposition of the Atomic Energy Commission and the Pentagon to continue the suspension of nuclear testing at least through the current year. That decision has been warmly welcomed here where fallout and nuclear testing are a hot political issue in the election that is likely for October or early November.

The State Department announcement keeps alive the negotiations for a control system to cover a prohibition on all forms of nuclear testing. This question — with the number of on-site inspections to be permitted — will certainly come into the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks in Washington.

This phenomenon — the waving, smiling Eisenhower — has come at the end of a summer of exceptional warmth and sun. It has come as a kind of extra beneficence and as these people stood in the long, shimmering twilight in Cromwell Road, at Grosvenor Gate, in Wigmore Street, in Portman Square, massed so close that often the procession had difficulty getting through, they waved and smiled and cheered as though a new era had already begun.

☆ ☆ ☆

If fighting in a distant place called Laos or Communist intransigence so familiar from the past is going to get in the way, these people do not, at the moment at any rate, want to hear about it. And this goes, one suspects, for the outwardly confident and smiling American who is leading the procession with all his old flair for the popular response.

Wonders Of The Universe

Rocket ships as large as the Queen Mary may be carrying cargoes to the moon within two decades — using atomic bombs for fuel. And the cost might well be less than a railroad would charge for carrying the same weight an equal distance.

These projected monsters of the sky, weighing 73,000 tons each, are not a midnight brainchild but the result of years of research. Competent engineers and scientists believe this may be the most feasible and economical way to conquer space.

Despite a cost of $5 billion each.

Under study since 1956, the "nuclear pulse rocket," as the system is called, would be powered by continuous atomic explosions. This is a radical departure from past thinking, far different from other proposed methods of harnessing nuclear power for rocket propulsion.

Dandridge M. Cole of the Martin Company in Denver, Colo., explains the new concept in the current issue of "Astronautics," the American Rocket Society magazine.

He visualizes a rocket ship about two-thirds the size of the Empire State building, in which 2600 atomic bombs would be equivalent to 1,000 tons of TNT (1 kiloton).

Here's how it would work: A steel thrust chamber, 240 feet in diameter, with a 3-inch thick wall and weighing 10,000 tons, would be the heart of the propulsion system. A low-velocity gun in the rocket would fire the bombs into the middle of the thrust chamber, where they would be detonated.

The explosions would force water and air out a nozzle in the stern of the craft, thus providing motive power of about 100,000 tons of thrust, plenty for the job.

Scoops in the front of the vehicle would replenish the air supply as long as the ship was in the atmosphere. Once in space, water and vaporized elements of the bombs themselves would be expelled.

It is necessary to have some material to provide thrust as gases from the explosions would be insufficient. Water is a wise choice as it would also serve as a coolant. Five to 20 tons of water per explosion would be needed.

Bold, imaginative and utilizing a concept beyond the scope of the original limited military purpose of the atomic bomb, this project may prove to be our breakthrough to space and affect the destinies of all nations.

If present plans are followed through, the first nuclear pulse rocket will be no larger than the projected Saturn system of 560 tons. This rocket, now on the drawing boards, is expected to be launched within two years.

Using nuclear bombs with the power of ten tons of TNT, a thrust chamber weighing 100 tons and 26 feet in diameter would be feasible. Figuring on pressures of 1,000 pounds to the square inch, no more than is present in high pressure boilers already in use, the total weight could be held within practicable limits.

If the Saturn will fly, there is no reason to believe this similar-sized nuclear pulse rocket wouldn't.

For efficiency's sake, however, it will be necessary to increase the size of the rockets as soon as possible. It is well known to engineers that it costs no more to produce (within reasonable limits) larger bombs than smaller ones. This is because the principal expense is in the detonating mechanism, not the explosive material.

Since we can make big bombs as cheaply as small bombs, it would pay to make the large ocean-liner size rockets. The 2600 1-kiloton bombs would cost about $60 million. Added to the $5 million cost of the ship itself, the sum would be staggering, but a 23,000-ton payload could be landed on the moon.

(The best anyone has done so far is four tons in orbit.)

Spread over a hundred trips this would average to less than $7 a pound. At present it costs about $100,000 merely to put a pound of payload in orbit. The 73,000-ton nuclear rocket would be cheaper than air freight.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: SHOULD LAWN AND GARDEN DEBRIS BE RAKED INTO THE GUTTERS AND PICKED UP BY THE STREET DEPARTMENT, OR SHOULD THE DISPOSAL OF THIS WASTE BE A RESPONSIBILITY OF EACH CITIZEN?

The purpose of this column is to inform and sometimes entertain by presenting a cross-section of the viewpoint of the general public and to give anyone an opportunity to express himself on any subject. Driver's Exam

Lincoln, Neb.

The vast number of citizens of Lancaster County and the state in general who possess a car driver's license pay a flood of cash to the county. It makes no difference whether they have grown too old, lost a percentage of their eyesight, hearing, use of other members of their body, or speed of action in an emergency.

They must simply before a certain date submit by personal call or by mail to the treasurer's office their present license and the fee to be accorded full privilege and responsibility for another space of time. Thereby they become full-fledged licensed safe drivers upon these roads and street we all must build and maintain with our tax payments. If they have become hazards for any reason, they still are permitted to drive under false colors.

When questioned about their privileged position, they will reply, "Well, if we were compelled to take and pass the driver's tests, we might not pass. So we are very careful to take advantage of the way that is maintained open for us."

Suppose everyone were required to pass the test at regular periods to maintain this license. Suppose, moreover, some whom officers might find at any time to have slipped from the required standard were required to pass the test.

Anyone who has not been a car driver or has ceased to drive for a length of time must pass a rigid test. They may have performed a lot of practice and study under a good teacher and yet be denied a license. This is as it should be. It is a wise rule. The same rule should be applied to every driver regardless of his age, experience, or other conditions. Is there not a needed change of practice in the issuance of licenses? Would it not eliminate many who have ceased to be safe drivers on our roads? Would it not cause many to become more alert and careful or else voluntarily cease to drive? Would it not likely result in a better accident record? Is it unreasonable to ask for such a general application of the law? Is the present practice wise or fair to all taxpayers?

United Front

Chicago, Ill.

We see many letters in The Star from readers who are sorely pressed by inflation, high taxes and Socialist giveaways of our money — in short, government by pressure groups.

Many readers undoubtedly know that the high deficit spending, high taxes and high debt that created this inflation are only weakening us for the Communists. Many will be delighted to know that a national conference will be held in Chicago on September 19-20 to form "A United Front To Combat Communism in the United States." Sen. Barry Goldwater will be our keynote speaker. It is sponsored by "We, The People!" a non-profit, nonpartisan national organization of conservative citizens, dedicated to awaken their fellow Americans in time to save their American heritage of freedom and opportunity for individual progress, peace and prosperity.

Looking Ahead

Lincoln, Neb.

I have just read with interest the editorial in The Lincoln Star concerning our institution. Quite naturally I appreciate it greatly because this type of support is needed if we are to do our job properly.

I appreciate your approval of the changes in the program we are presently making, but more important, I think, is the warning pointed out in the last paragraph. At present we are not dangerously overcrowded, but sound thinking dictates mandatory obligation of this office to begin immediately a long-range expansion planning program, as you pointed out. In addition to this fact, some of the existing physical facilities are beginning to need renovation. It is our obligation to bring this to the attention of the proper authorities in order that they may be handled as soon as money becomes available.

May I express my personal appreciation for the interest The Star has in the institution.

Auditorium

Lincoln, Neb.

Just finished reading again the fancy brochure put out for the opening of the Pershing Municipal Auditorium.

Under the heading "Purpose" one reads that the arena was designed to bring to Lincoln many types of entertainment. Further, that the auditorium was built for the use and pleasure of Lincoln residents.

So far, we have seen good, medium and poor events and programs. Some should never have been scheduled for the auditorium because of production difficulties. It appears that at present the programming is lagging. This, then, brings me to my grievance.

If no events are scheduled, why not have public ice skating again? We are told that this is not a money maker. Are the parks, swimming pools and softball diamonds money makers? It appears that these are all for the pleasure of the residents of Lincoln.

Agreed that the turnout for skating was small at times. The advertisements calling attention to skating were small, the periods irregular and the help beginners would receive was negligible.

We need something for active youngsters and also the young oldsters. This is a good sport which the entire family can enjoy.

What about it city fathers?

Afternoon Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Beverly Robson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer O. Robson of Thayer, to Larry M. Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Perkins of Stamford, was solemnized on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 30, at the First Presbyterian Church in York. The lines of the 4 o'clock service were read by the Rev. Robert Moorhead of York, assisted by Dr. Robert Blakesley of Cleveland, O., uncle of the bride.

Miss Carolyn Busler of Lincoln was her cousin's mald of honor and was frocked in cranberry-toned silk organza flaring to ballerina length. Her brow veil was held by a feathered crown in matching tone and she carried a white Bible showered with ivy strands. Costumed identically were Mrs. Boyd Stuhr of Chula Vista, Calif., the matron of honor; the bridesmatrons, Mrs. Jack Hibbs, Hastings, and Mrs. D. G. Wendegatz, Kansas City, Mo.; and the bridesmaid, Miss Shirley Roscher, Springfield, Mo.

Serving his brother as best man was Jerry C. Perkins of Omaha, and the corps of ushers included J. M. Tarvin and Loren Betz, Lincoln; Jim Bauer of Beatrice; and Martin Carrencedo of Mexico City, Mexico.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white silk tissue taffeta touched with jeweled Alencon lace. Appliques of the lace bordered the rounded decolletage and highlighted the Empire lines of the bodice, and the brief, shirred sleeves were complemented by long mitts of the silk.

The couple will reside at Syracuse, N.Y., where the bridegroom, a graduate of Northwestern College, Minneapolis, and the University of Nebraska, is a graduate student at Syracuse University. Mrs. Perkins attended Nebraska Wesleyan University, where she is a member of Willard Sorority, and is a graduate of the Kansas City University School of Dental Hygiene.

A Nebraska Clubwoman In Manila

EDITOR'S NOTE—In another in her series of letters to The Lincoln Star, Mrs. William H. Hasebroock presents her impressions of economics, education and political life of The Philippines which she toured this summer.

It is interesting to note that without exception, the presidents of the numerous colleges on the Islands are graduates of schools of higher education in the United States and a great majority of the leaders in the business and professional circles also are alumni of US schools. At the same time, an effective program for exchange students has been most encouraging. Since 1948, over 600 have come to the US on scholarships, with 35 to 40 in various American universities this year. There are a few Americans who come over to the Islands for their education and to gain a better understanding of these people.

In addition to this, about 3,000 trainees are sent to technical schools for short periods of time to learn a concentrated training in specialized fields. This program is under the excellent direction of the International Co-operation Association, an outgrowth of the original Marshall Plan.

Success for this Plan was attributed by General Marshall, himself, in a large degree to the interpretation and promotion of its program by the General Federation of Women's Clubs when it was first introduced.

Trade relations are a serious matter in this country, also, as we found them to be in other ports of call. The Philippines are suffering a dollar shortage. Before you land, you fill in a slip of paper declaring the value of your currency and travelers' checks. For each American dollar you can receive two Filipino pesos. When you leave the country, you must submit official documentation showing the proper transfer at the proper rate. This is one way the Islands attempt to offset the black marketing of the American dollar. But even so, tourists are constantly beleaguered by street vendors and store clerks attempting to change your dollar for three or even four pesos. The swindles experienced in such cases are numerous.

The development of projects on the "barrio" (small community) level is the field that is of greatest interest. It is here that the true rise in the standard of living is noticed today and will be witnessed in future years. The upgrade of economic conditions, improved roads, better health programs, tends to involve each native.

A Philippine Woman's Club won one of the Federation's Community Achievement Contest awards two years ago and the gift of money from the Sears Foundation has set a pattern for further emulation by other local groups. The marvelous part of such a contest is that everyone and every group involved is a "winner" even though the club may not be the recipient of Federated state or national monetary awards.

Politics is a popular phase of life in the Islands. There are two active parties, both pro-American. Oddly enough the national President, Mr. Garcia, is of one party and the Vice President, Mr. Macapagal, is of another. The response to the franchise is favorable, percentage-wise, and when one votes it is not simply accomplished by making a cross in a box of the name of a preferred candidate, but by writing in the name of every candidate for whom you wish to vote. On the whole, the success of the Islands' goals is the aim of each political organization.

At the present time, the Islands are preparing for an election in November and much campaigning is apparent. One of the claims of every candidate is that he is strongly pro-American, for anyone criticizing the United States has doomed any success at the polls.

Had Evening Weddings

SCHAFFER-SCHROEDER

The marriage of Miss Kathryn Ann Schaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Schaffer, to Larry L. Schroeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Schroeder, took place at 8 o'clock on Sunday evening, Aug. 30, at Mount Olive Lutheran Church.

The attendants included Mrs. Ronald Strough, the matron of honor; and bridesmaids Miss Judy Fischer, Miss Pat Schlegelmilch, Miss Janice Simmons and Mrs. John Lape. Debbie Strough and Cindy Lape were the flower girls, and Steve Lape was the ringbearer. The candles were lighted by Miss Judy Schroeder and Miss Diane Rohn.

Kenneth Bourne served as best man, and seating the guests were Ronald Tickota, Gary Schaffer, Jim Wray and Kenneth White.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The long-sleeved bodice of lace was designed with a shoulder-wide neckline, and the lace was repeated to form a border above the hem of the voluminous skirt.

After a short honeymoon trip to Colorado Mr. Schroeder and his bride will reside at 2618 P St.

IDEUS-SIEFKES

At an early evening ceremony solemnized on Sunday, Aug. 30, Miss Viola Ideus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Siebend J. Ideus of Adams, became the bride of Dale Siefkes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Siefkes of Pickrell. Gladioli and roses in shades of pale pink and red decorated the candlelighted altar of Zion Lutheran Church at Pickrell for the service, which was read by the Rev. Raymond Ideus, brother of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Freuhling.

Wearing identical frocks of pale pink embroidered organza over taffeta and carrying cascades of red roses were Mrs. Leonard Gronewald of Beatrice, who was the matron of honor; Miss Phyllis Wallman, Lincoln, the maid of honor; and the bridesmaids, Miss Lois Lenners, Beatrice, and Miss Veloura Ideus, Adams. Miss Ruth Ideus, Adams, and Miss Pam Gronewald, Beatrice, were the flower girls.

Harlen Siefkes of Lincoln served as best man, and the ushers were Harvey Pickrel, Benedict; Ronnie Lahm, Hallam; Merle/Schuster, Blue Springs; Orlalee Zimmerman and Leonard Gronewald, Beatrice, and Donnie Lenners, Filley. Terry Ideus, Adams, and Robert Ideus, Filley, carried the rings.

The bride's gown of white silk organza over taffeta was trimmed with appliques of lace highlighted with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Lace edged the scoop neckline of the short-sleeved bodice, and below the tucked Empire waist, the lace-patterned skirt flared into hemline fullness and ended in a brush train.

The couple left for a wedding trip to the Ozarks, and will make their home at 917 Elmwood in Lincoln, where the bridegroom is a senior at the University of Nebraska and a member of Phi Epsilon Kappa professional fraternity.

Returning recently from a trip to Portland, Ore. and other spots along the west coast were Mrs. Douglas Anderson and her two daughters, Carol and Nan Jane. In Portland the travelers were guests at the home of Mrs. Anderson's mother, Mrs. Donald Barry.

Dear Abby . . .

Stop That Snoring!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband used to snore so loud it almost broke up our marriage. A neighbor of mine told me she had the same trouble with her husband and this is how she solved her problem: She took a plain ordinary gauze bandage (about three inches wide) and she tied his mouth shut. As long as a person's mouth is closed he can't snore. I have been doing this for about four years now and it works very well. I can't sign my name because I promised my husband I wouldn't tell anybody, so if you use this letter, just sign it—

"FIVE FOOT TWO"

DEAR ABBY: I don't care what anybody says. There is NO cure for snoring.

I married a man who can win a prize as the world's loudest snorer. He can snore in ANY position — on his back, on either side, or on his face.

I simply made up my mind that I wasn't going to let it bother me. When he starts to snore I just pretend that he is "singing" to me and I go right to sleep.

Now if I don't hear him snoring, I can't go to sleep because I know that he is worried about something or he isn't feeling well.

CLINT'S WIFE

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: In reference to the wife whose husband's snoring annoyed her: Tell her to sew a large empty spool on the back of his pajama tops. Sew if right in the middle of the back, between the shoulder blades. If he happens to turn over on his back, this spool will remind him to turn over on his side. When he turns on his side, he will quit snoring. Thank you. EVA

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am woman who used to snore so loud that nobody could believe it! Before I was married it caused me a lot of embarrassment because everywhere I'd go—in hotels or on overnight train trips, everyone thought I had a man in there with me.

I even went to a doctor to see if something could be done. I got no help. Finally, someone told me that snoring was caused by sleeping with the mouth open. That gave me an idea.

I bought some adhesive tape, and taped my mouth closed one night. My husband, who had been sleeping in another room, promised to stay with me all night to see if it worked. He said it was a miracle! I didn't make a sound. Since then, I've been taping my mouth closed every night, and I haven't snored since.

PROBLEM SOLVED

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will pass this sure-cure recipe for snoring on so that woman whose husband snored so bad. Before retiring, fix him a "snack" of yogurt (one cup) mixed with one raw egg and a heaping teaspoon of wheat germ (you can buy it in any health food store). Add a pinch of dry mustard and about half a cup of finely chopped raw fish (any kind of fish will do, but remove the bones first). It is delicious and is guaranteed to cure snoring. I have tried it and it works!

MRS. R. M. B.

DEAR MRS. B.: It is no wonder your husband does not snore. After this "snack," Who could sleep?

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: What's all this jazz about a wife complaining because her husband snores at night? At least she knows where he is.

Miss Linda Brehm and Miss Sandra Brehm lighted the candles, and Paulette Portsche was the flower girl. Robert May was the ringbearer.

John Reed of Omaha served as best man, and the guests were seated by Richard, Tom and John Dormer.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white silk faille, designed in the princess mode. French lace daisies framed the V neckline of the long-sleeved bodice, and the wide skirt touched the floor. Her lace-banded veil was held to the head with a beaded cap, and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white chrysanthemums.

Upon their return from a honeymoon trip to Denver Mr. Greenwalt and his bride will reside at 1935 E St.

CAGLE-STEIN

All-white gladioli and pompon chrysanthemums against a background of palms decotated Chapel 6 at Ft. Carson, Colo., on Sunday, Aug. 30, for the marriage of Miss Carolyn Faye Cagle, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. John F. Cagle of North Carolina and Ft. Carson, to Neil Leslie Stein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Stein of Lincoln. The ceremony was solemnized by Chaplain Cagle, father of the bride.

The maid of honor and the bride's only attendant was Miss Jo Hovermale of Berkeley Springs, W. Va., who wore a princess frock of yellow organza

Jess Stein served his brother as best man.

The bride was given in marriage by Col. John K. Flemming, commanding officer of the 9th Infantry Division Artillery, and chose for her wedding a sheath gown of white peau de soie. Imported Alencon lace patterned the gently rounded neckline of the short-sleeved bodice, and beneath the slim waist, the slender lines of the skirt were emphasized by back panels of the silk which extended into a chapel train. A plateau brim of silk and lace held her veil of illusion, and she carried a lace bridal 'kerchief and a white Bible ornamented with a cluster of gardenias.

A wedding dinner for the members of the family and the bridal party was held in the Green Room of the Ft. Carson Officers Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Stein will make their home at 4830 Madison in Lincoln. A graduate of Richmond Academy, the bride attended the University of Maryland in Munich, Germany, the Goethe Institute of Languages, Rothenburg, Germany, the American University, Washington, D. C., and is a mem- of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. Mr. Stein is a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University and is a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

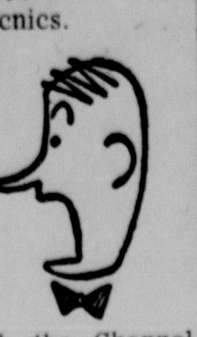
Stanton Delaplane's POSTCARD

One of the major sports of France is the piquenique. The picnic. All along the roads of Normandy today, the French were having picnics.



People who did not have cars, or did not want to get on the road, were having picnics in their front yards.

The sun has broken through the Channel overcast. And it was as fine a picnic day as you could wish.

We have a car, a little Reanult Dauphine. It has a switch for the horn. We have a waaaah-waaaah country horn. And a gentle toot-toot city horn.

We have four light switches. At night the French drive with a dim beam that we would call a parking light. You have to have eyes like a cat.

You do NOT use your horn at night. You flip the light switch onto the next highest Beam. This shoots a little yellow light ahead of you and —we hope—lets the man on the bicycle without lights get out of the way.

On the highway, we use a high-high light. And we switch down on passing.

On overtaking, we switch down, then up.

We also have a parking light on each side of the car. And we can light either side we want.

Most of the time I am so busy with switches, I need a co-pilot.

☆ ☆ ☆

Oh, yes, the piquenique. The way you go about this, you look for a place marked charcuterie.

A charcuterie is a kind of delicatessen. But it is run by a man and lady who think it is a bureau of romance.

"You are going to make the piquenique?" he cried. "Ah, tres polie!"

"This is my daughter," I said coldly. "How about a couple of ham sandwiches and a Coco Cola?"

The charcuterie man staggered as though I had struck him.

"Ah, no, no," he whispered. "Not the sandweech. To make the piquenique is serious."

He sold me some head cheese. He sold me a jar of olives. He sold me some roast pork. A tube of Dijon mustard and a little can of salt. He advised me to go across the street and get the ordinary wine. It had an affluence not possessed by ordinary ordinary wine.

☆ ☆ ☆

I went across the street and bought the affluent ordinary. I went to the boulangerie and got a three-foot stick of French bread.

We took off for the country.

"This looks like an excellent spot," I said. It was near an apple orchard and a little stream ran down the pasture. "I wonder why nobody is here?"

We unpacked the piquenique and I can tell you why nobody was there.

There was the biggest convention of yellow jackets I have ever seen.

They saw the piquenique and they came to lunch with us.

We grabbed little pieces of head cheese and stuffed them into the French bread. I poured myself some wine and another glass of Coco Cola. Then we started running up and down the road. Trying to outrun the yellow jackets.

The yellow jackets did not mind at all. They came zooming after us. Diving on the sandweeches.

And after awhile, though it was hot, we got in the car and rolled up the windows and finished the piquenique. (A few yellow jackets were inside, too. But it was nothing.)

And finally we threw out the rest of the piquenique to the yellow jackets. And we drove off, toot-tooting our town horn. One of the most successful piqueniques you ever saw. If you happen to be a yellow jacket, that is.

Los Angeles Cuts Giants Lead To Two

Los Angeles (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers came from behind with two runs in the 9th inning — scoring the deciding run on Willie McCovey's error — and defeated the San Francisco Giants 7-6 here Sunday before 44,391.

With the bases loaded, two out and the count 3 and 2, pinchhitter Norm Larker hit a hard bouncer down the first base line and McCovey bobbled it. Wally Moon trotted in from third with the deciding run.

The Los Angeles victory cut first place San Francisco's lead over the Dodgers to two games.

The Dodgers were trailing, 6-5, with one out in the 9th, when Charlie Neal reached base on third baseman Jackie Brandt's error. Wally Moon followed with a triple — his 3rd hit of the day — scoring Neal.

Sam Jones came on to relieve Mike McCormick at this point and got Gil Hodges to ground out. Jones then walked pinchhitters Duke Snider and Ron Fairly before McCovey committed the game-ending error.

Sports Editor, The Star

Scouting The Country-side

We have the word of Cliff Speegle, Oklahoma State football coach, that the Cowboys aren't going to use the 1959 season to give underclassmen experience for the 1960 campaign when the ex-Aggies move into Big 8 circles.

"This isn't going to be any prep school for our entrance into the Big Eight Conference," Cliff said. "We're going to use the few veterans we have a little longer than usual this year, because we're out to win them all—to make this season better than the last."

'New Rich'

Gus Schrader of the Cedar Rapids Gazette gives us a good example of the "new rich" look in college football.

With the University of Iowa Hawkeyes riding high in recent years, Gus apparently has landed a spot on the band wagon.

Referring to a rumor that Iowa might resume football relations with Nebraska in 1965 or later, the Cedar Rapids scribe says:

"Frankly, we can think of many opponents that would make a more attractive game than Nebraska, but who can guess how the situation will be that far ahead?"

Thanks for the qualification, Gus. As a memory refresher, there are still some NU fans around who remember when the Huskers used to beat Iowa with regularity and ease.

In fact, the Scarlets hold a 21-11-3 record over the Hawkeyes and Nebraska has outscored Iowa, 467-332 in the 35 games.

Yes; indeed, the old football worm does turn.

P.S. By 1965, Iowa might be glad to play a "patsy" like the Huskers—especially if the school's professors continue their new policy of considering ISU an educational center instead of strictly a football factory.

Husker Yardstick

Evidently the 1959 Nebraska Cornhuskers are being used as a Big 8 yardstick—and, with good reason after 2 sub-par seasons, outsiders don't care to believe NU can cause any trouble.

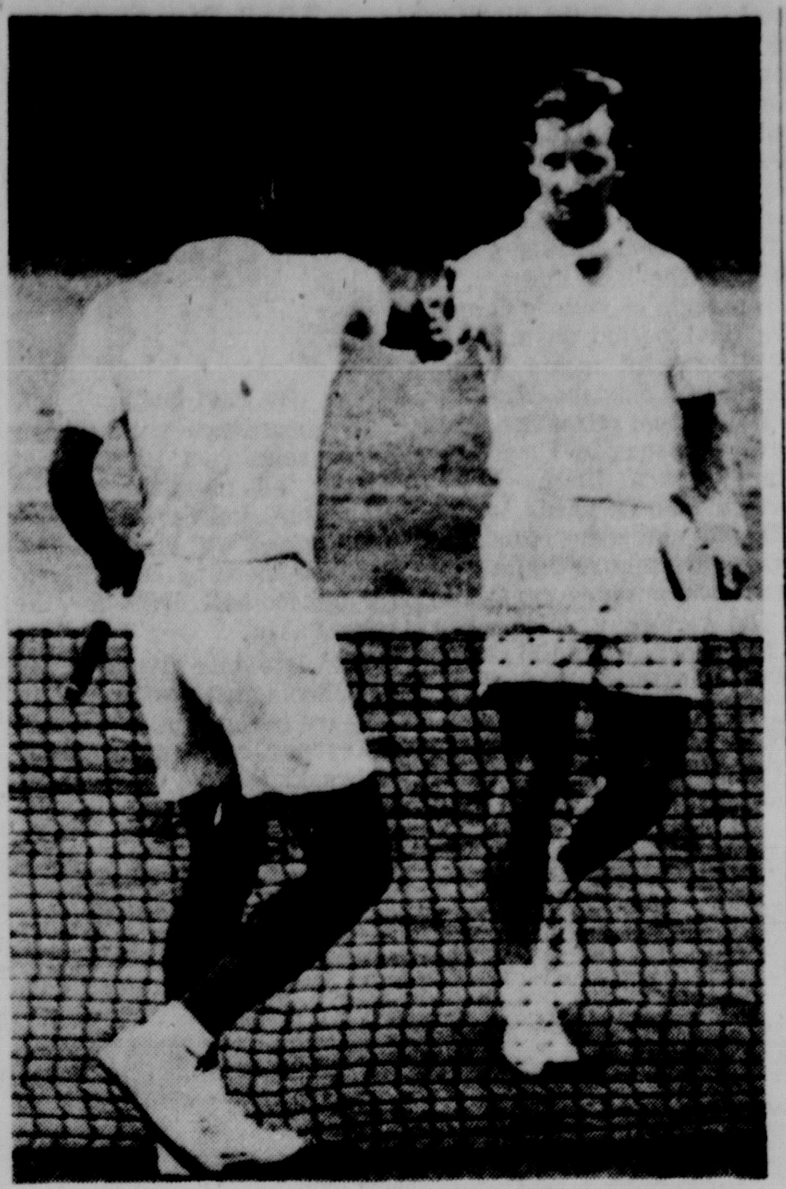
Jack Carberry, veteran football observor for the Denver Post, writes: ". . . . Nor do we believe Colorado, under personable, capable (Sonny) Grandelius, will be below Nebraska in the final standings—Oklahoma, yes; maybe Missouri, which must come to Boulder to play. But barring injuries, and with a good bounce of the football here and there Colorado, by the time it meets Kansas on Nov. 7, is, this corner believes, going to be a pretty fair country ball club."

Friend Jack may be right, but Coloradoans have a habit of donning rose-colored glasses every September. They somehow can't imagine that the Buffaloes might possibly be only ordinary. And if you don't believe me, ask Dal Ward.

'Word Gets Around'

Finally, forgive Bill Jennings if he cancels his subscription to Look Magazine. Word that the Huskers are expected to be improved this year has been taken seriously by that publication's pre-season forecaster.

Nebraska is tabbed as the Big 8 Conference "darkhorse" and listed among the schools which might break into the top 20 this fall.



Congratulations. . . To Alex (Foreground)

Alex Levels Davis Series

. . . MacKay, Fraser Match Called

Forest Hills, N.Y. (UPI)—Darkness Sunday halted the deciding Davis Cup singles tennis match between big Barry MacKay and Australian Neale Fraser, all even at one set each, after Alex Olmedo squared the count at 2-2 for the United States with a marathon 5-set victory over Aussie Rod Laver.

MacKay, Uncle Sam's last-ditch hope, battled the 22-year old Fraser to a comeback 6-8, 6-3 standoff in the sultry shades of evening—postponing the ultimate decision until today—after Olmedo bested the red-haired Laver 9-7, 4-6, 10-8, 12-10 in a gruelling 3-hour and 25-minute struggle. The 66 games comprised the longest 4-set match and 3rd longest bout ever in challenge round history.

Former President Herbert Hoover was among the 11,000 fans jammed into the horseshoe shaped concrete stadium as Olmedo put the United States back into the running with his clutch victory and sent MacKay, the 21 year old from Dayton, O. and his No. 1 ranked Australian rival into a battle of booming serves for the big silver mug emblematic of intnaretoinal amateur tennis supremacy.

Aces, Double Faults

MacKay and Fraser put on a slashing battle of aces and double faults. The Midwesterner double faulted away his service in the 13th game to lose the opening set, and Fraser returned the compliment in the second game of the second set to send them into today's 3 remaining sets.

Olmedo, hero of the United States' victory last December in which the Yanks recaptured the silverware, was strictly on the spot Sunday.

"Hasta luigi, my friends," Clocker Charlie shouted this morning as he dropped in to say goodbye.

He was wearing his bottle-green jacket with the scotch plaid vest, and his watch chains were dangling loosely. I knew he was money ahead, but of course he wouldn't admit it.

"Going to use a new system out at Mitchell," he told me. "First off, I'm not going to waste money on your lousy selections."

A tear sprang quickly to my eye, but Charlie saw it and added hastily: "Except when they're a Sure Thing, that is."

So I bid Charlie goodbye and watched him shuffle out the door. Good old Charlie, thought I. What would he do without us.

x—U.S. and Panama tied for second in the women's 60 meter dash and each received a silver medal with no bronze medal awarded in the event.

Chicago (AP) — Bill Dellinger, slender Air Force officer from Oxnard, Calif., outsprinted Argentina's favored Oswaldo Suarez in the stretch of a record-breaking Pan-American 5,000-meter run here Sunday, pacing the United States to another sweeping triumph in the Pan American Games.

The heavily-manned Yanks won all of the day's 5 events in track and field, smashing 4 more games' records in the process. Then the U.S. won 3 additional titles, two in free pistol shooting and one in fencing for a total grab of 18 Gold Medals in 3 days.

See Summaries On Page 10

Argentina, Chile and Cuba have captured one Gold Medal each.

In addition the U.S. appeared virtually certain to clinch the men's basketball championship. Mexico made the tall U.S. team's path easier by upsetting Brazil's world champions 50-49.

The other track and field triumphs at Soldier Field were scored by Dave Edstrom of Sherwood, Ore. In the decathlon with 7,254 points; Mrs. Earlene Brown of Los Angeles in the discus with a heave of 161 feet 9½ inches; Tom Murphy of Brooklyn, who bested George Kerr of the West Indies Federation in the 800-meter run in 1:49.4, and by Lucinda Williams of Nashville, Tenn. In the 100-meter dash in :12.1. All but Miss Williams shattered Pan-American records.

Nelson Lincoln, a 45-year-old Army sergeant from Medford, Ore., won the free pistol shooting crown with 547 out of a possible 600 points and paced his mates to the team title with 2,129 points.

Fairgrounds Will Better Wager Mark

Lincoln's Fairgrounds racing heads into the final two days with the $3 million mark in total partimutuel handle a virtual certainty.

Total handle for the first 17 days is $2,779,233. Slightly over $110,000 in wagers today and Tuesday will send it over the goal.

Smallest day at the races this year drew $122,131 on the second day. The largest day was the $280,144 on the first Saturday of the 19-day meet.

Average is now $161,587, still far off last year's figure. In 1958, $2,888,239 was bet in a 15-day meeting for a $192,549 average.

Major reason for the drop this year is the cut from 9 to 8 races on all but Saturday.

Topeka Belts Lincoln, 8-4

Lincoln Star Special

Topeka — Two home runs by Bill Dashner, including a grand slam drive, paced Topeka to a 8-4 victory over Lincoln in the opener of a 3-I League series here Sunday night.

The Reds hopped on Al Brice for 6 runs in the first two innings before the Chiefs could break the ice. Andres Ayon held Lincoln to 6 hits and struck out 13, including the first 4 batters he faced.

Down 6-0, Lincoln got a run in the 3rd when Al Schrader walked, advanced on Brice's double, and scored on an infield out. Lincoln got its last 4 in the 6th on Mike Hershberger's triple, a single by Deacon Jones, and Don Gordon's home run.

But Dashner's big bat had already ruined the Chiefs. Topeka got off to a 1-0 lead in the first on the first of Brice's 3 hit batsmen and a pair of errors.

The 5-run second inning, in which 10 men batted, saw Topeka get a double and single in addition to Dashner's grand slam. Brice also hit two batters in the inning.

Topeka added another in the 5th and Dashner's lead-off blast wound up scoring for the 8th.

Jennings Has 67 In Huskers' Camp

. . . Abundance At Every Position

By Don Bryant

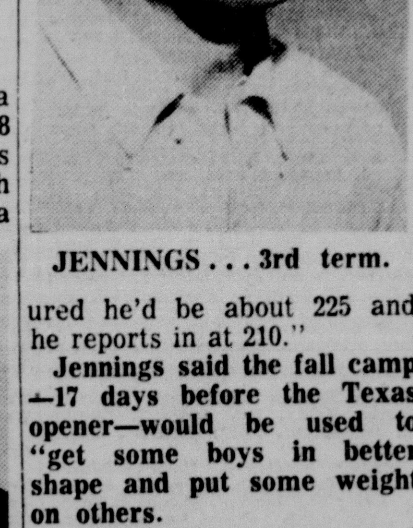
Bill Jennings counted noses Sunday afternoon and found 67 Cornhuskers had answered the call for the 1959 football campaign, the University of Nebraska's 69th in intercollegiate circles.

Only absentee was Duane DuBois, sophomore tackle from Niagara Falls, N.Y. It was reported that he might be a victim of the books since he had a correspondence course to complete before being eligible.

After posing for the team group picture, the Huskers went through their annual labors for the press and TV photographers.

Jennings said he was pleased with the overall appearance of the candidates, but indicated that some of the players might be in too good condition.

"I'm happy to say that the boys looked like they're in good physical condition," Bill said. "But I'm afraid some of them might have trimmed down too much. Take Al Wellman, for example. We figured he'd be about 225 and he reports in at 210."



JENNINGS . . . 3rd term.

Jennings said the fall camp —17 days before the Texas opener—would be used to "get some boys in better shape and put some weight on others.

"With regular sleep and meals, some of those who have trimmed down too much may gain some weight," he said.

Sunday's roster included 6 players at every position except quarterback and 7 at that spot. Unexpected arrival was Jerry Levy, sophomore quarterback aspirant from Coffeyville, Kan. Jennings said he might be used at left half.

This morning the Huskers will commence preparations for Texas (Sept. 19) and the rugged 1959 schedule which includes Minnesota, Oregon State and Indiana in addition to the usual stiff Big 8 slate.

Jennings said the squad would devote Monday morning's session to "our kicking game, pass defense and offensive and defensive group work."

Sunday's turnout included 20 lettermen, 5 of them seniors who have won a pair of monograms—Max Martz of Beatrice, Harry Tolly of North Platte, LeRoy Zentic of Rock Island, Ill., Carrol Zaruba of Fullerton and Duane Mongerson of Omaha.

Jennings plans double sessions daily until school starts —9 a.m. and 4 p.m.—and has announced that the drills will be closed to the public.

Coaching Staff

The regular Nebraska coaching staff this fall will include, in addition to Jennings, LeRoy Pearce, Don Strasheim, Don Scarbrough, Dick Monroe, Warren Schmakel and Jack Braley.

Helping this group will be Bill Smith, NU wrestling coach; Ike Hanscom, assistant track coach; and student assistants Larry Naviaux, Dennis Emanuel and George Harshman, 1958 lettermen.

Training Staff

Paul Schneider will again head the Husker training room staff. He'll be aided by former NU back Dierks Ralston and Dennis Aten. Physical Therapist George F. Sullivan is in Chicago, serving as a trainer for the Pan American Games, and will return here later in the week.

1959 Huskers

Duane Mongerson

Duane Mongerson of Omaha is a solid candidate for Big 8 honors this fall as he launches his 3rd varsity campaign with the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Mongerson

Last year as a junior, the Omaha North graduate led the squad with 463 minutes, and he showed improvement last spring.

The 1955 High School All American has good speed and his offensive blocking is outstanding. Duane is tabbed as the No. 1 left tackle.

He is a 21-year-old senior, stands 6-4 and weighs 206.

Chisox UpLead In Race

. . . To 5½ Games

Cleveland (AP) — Chicago's pennant-hungry White Sox, driving for their first American League flag in 40 years, blasted Cleveland twice here Sunday, 6-3 and 9-4, to complete a 4-game sweep that dumped the Indians 5½ games back.

A pair of 39-year-old pitching wonders, starter Early Wynn (17-9) and reliever Gerry Staley, hurled the White Sox to victory in the opener as Chicago poured across 5 runs in the 6th inning.

Cal McLish, (16-7), who had beaten Chicago 3 times this season, was the loser. He limited the White Sox to one hit in the first 5 innings. Then the league-leaders broke loose and sent 11 men to the plate in the 6th. Wynn's 400-foot homer triggered the rally.

The nightcap was decided early when Chicago built a 5-0 lead after 3 innings off starter and loser Gary Bell (14-11). The lead stood up despite Cleveland home runs. Rocky Colavito hit his 39th—tops in the majors — with two men on, and Woody Held hit his 26th. Held also homered in the first game.

A crowd of 66,586 had little to cheer about as they saw the Indians crushed for the 4th straight time. Chicago came to town Friday night with a 1½ game lead and Cleveland riding an 8-game winning streak.

The sweep virtually shattered Cleveland pennant hopes.

STU RESCUES FACE

Long Rap In Tenth Wins 7-6

Pittsburgh (AP)—Dick Stuart smashed a tremendous drive against the deep centerfield wall in the 10th inning here Sunday to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 7-6 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies and hand relief hurler Elroy Face his 17th consecutive victory of the season.

The Pirates won the first game 2-1 in a tight pitching duel between Harvey Haddix of the Pirates and Humberto Robinson of the Phils.

Pittsburgh went into the 10th inning behind by one run after a home run by Ed Bouchee in the Phils' 10th. Don Hoak started off the inning with a single and went to second on a sacrifice. Virdon followed with a base on balls, and then came Stuart's long double.

Face's victory puts him just two victories away from two records—24 consecutive wins over two years set by Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants in 1936 and 1937 and 19 straight wins in one season set by Rube Marquard of the Giants in 1912.

In accordance with conference rules set down last spring, all members of the Nebraska College and 5-JC conferences will wait until tomorrow morning, Sept. 1, to tip off football drills for the 1959 season.

That late date gives 3 of the 15 schools just two weeks to prepare for openers.

Kearney, co-champion in the Nebraska College Conference; Wayne and Midland all open Sept. 12.

The campaign will be the 15th for the NCC, which began with 9 members, shrunk to 8 for 7 seasons and now lists 10 enrollees.

The surplus in numbers cost Kearney and Chadron chances to solo for the championship last fall.

McCook, guided by new mentor Don McKillip, defends in the junior college 5-JC loop.

Hillcrest Linksman In Spectacular Feat

...Van Dersarl 6 Under On Final 5 Holes

What was described by Hillcrest Country Club pro Bunnie Richards as "the most sensational finish in my 15 years here" was shot Sunday by Col. Jules VanDersarl of Lincoln Air Base.

VanDersarl closed out the last 5 holes in 6 under par figures. He wound up with 32 243 compared to par 44 345.

That's two eagles, two birdies and a par over the 5-hole route. Probably his most spectacular shot was on the 378-yard, par 4 15th, where he holed his second shot with a No. 7 iron from 135 yards out.

VanDersarl's finish helped him to a 41-31—72 for the round, putting him among the leaders in the HCC Junior-Seniors tourney and sweepstakes action.

With the courses:

Cup Deuced; Barry Meets Fraser Today

(Cont. from p. 9)

He had lost his opening singles match to Fraser and also lost in Saturday's doubles.

Fighting furiously to recover his vanished touch, Olmedo caught a tartar in the game little scrambler from down under. Laver was bruising the corners with brilliant placements and threw up a stone wall defense.

Halts Rod's Service

But Olmedo, the lend-lease star from Peru, pulled himself off the floor to keep Uncle Sam's hopes alive. Playing sporadically, Alex lost his service twice in the first set, broke back twice and in the 14th game fought off two set points to finally halt service. Aroused, he broke through in the 15th game and then held service to take the lead.

Each broke twice early in the second set before Olmedo's service cracked again and a double fault put him behind 0-40.

That cost him the set and as they fought through the long 3rd set each broke through twice. Olmedo finally scored the winner by breaking through in the 17th game.

Church Attic His Hideaway For 4 Long Years

'Ghost Of First Methodist' Feared Loss Of Face

Ann Arbor, Mich. (UPI)—A Chinese student from Singapore, who followed the code of the Orient and fled the shame of failure, was found Sunday cowering in the pitch-black church attic where he had hidden for almost 4 years.

The student, Cheng Guan Lim, 28, was clad only in tattered shorts, worn canvas shoes and a homemade skull cap when his squinting eyes peered back into the flashlights of policemen who had tracked him to the loft of the First Methodist Church of Ann Arbor.

His matted hair was shoulder-length and his skin had the pallor of a dead man's.

Afraid To Return

He had not spoken to a single human being since the day in October, 1955, when he climbed into the loft of the church. A C-engineering student on the University of Michigan campus which borders the church, Cheng preferred a living death to failure and an ignominious return to his homeland.

For 3 years and 10 months, Cheng slept by day in a cubby hole two and half feet wide, 6 and a half feet high, and 10 feet long. He sweltered in 120 degree temperatures in summer and nearly froze in the winter.

By night, Cheng prowled the rambling, L-shaped church building, living off scraps of food and garbage picked up in the rectory kitchen.

Seen But Once

Cheng, who had become known as "the ghost of First Methodist" was seen only once during his exile.

A cleaning woman surprised him stealing food in the kitchen.

"I nearly fainted at the sight of her," Cheng said in a hoarse, cultivated voice.

"I stood in one place and jumped up and down. She ran one way and I ran in the other."

Yelled In Closet

In his awful loneliness, Cheng said, "I used to go downstairs in the night into the church, lock myself in a closet, and scream out loud. I used to scream church hymns in the closet in the night to get it off my chest."

The University of Michigan disclosed that the Rev. Eugene Ransom, pastor of the church where Cheng hid, was Cheng's sponsor when the Chinese youth came to the U.S. in 1951.

University of Michigan Dean of Men Walter B. Rea announced it was "entirely possible" that Cheng might be allowed to continue his studies if immigration authorities permit it.

Cheng's most precious possessions were a set of keys to almost all doors in the church, a pair of gloves, a pair of homemade stilts, and a jump rope.

Kept In Condition

He used the keys to prowl the church. He used the stilts so that he would not get his feet wet while crossing the church's snow-covered roof—his only way of getting into the church—in winter. He used the jump rope to keep in condition.

A sleeping bag fashioned from old army blankets and stolen zippers provided him a tent in Michigan's sub-zero winter weather. In the broiling heat of summer, he lay perfectly still in his hiding place. When there were church socials below, Cheng sometimes had to stay in the attic for two to 3 days.

Through the years, Cheng kept in contact with the world outside by reading magazines filched from the church library. He returned every one. He kept in good condition, losing few of his 130 pounds at the start of his self-imprisonment. His teeth were perfect.

Suspicions Roused

For months, the pastor, choir, and parishioners of the church had become uneasily aware that strange things were happening in the building at night. A firm of private detectives was hired to track down the source.

Periodic checks were made. Early Sunday, a detective heard a trap door slam high up in the church and called police.

Later, officers climbed up into the 80 by 40 foot attic above the high, vaulted ceiling of the church. Using flashlights, they picked their way along a catwalk.

At the front of the church, they found [illegible] jumbled evidence that someone made his home there.

The flashlights danced around and picked out Cheng hiding in the shadows. His hat was jammed down over his ears.

For the first time in 3 years and 10 months, Cheng spoke to a fellow human being.

Wage Talks To Resume At Goodyear

Cleveland (AP) — Representatives of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and the United Rubber Workers Union meet again Monday to try to reach agreement on wages for 20,000 employes in 11 cities.

The current wage agreement expires at midnight Monday.

Wages are negotiated separately from other issues in the contract between the company and union. The current talks started Aug. 18 under a wage re-opening clause in the master contract signed last April.

Both sides in the rubber industry negotiations customarily do not announce details on the talks until a settlement has been reached.

The current straight-time average hourly rate for Goodyear workers is $2.61.

The firm has plants in Akron, Ohio, Muncie, Ind., Jackson, Mich., Lincoln, Neb., Los Angeles, New Bedford, Mass., Windsor, Vt., North Chicago, St. Marys, Ohio, Topeka, Kan., and Gadsden, Ala.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY

National Economic Growth And Choice Of Investments

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

Nobody ever got rich by drooling over the historic price advance of stocks which he didn't own.

Likewise, there is no profit in regretting that you were not aboard the stock market gravy train during the prolonged boom in market prices.

Rukeyser

The practical challenge is: Where do we go from here?

Older persons, living on dividends and interest, are interested in optimum immediate return consistent with safety or principal. This objective makes bonds attractive at present, since they are yielding the best return in more than a generation.

But younger persons, on their way up, are concerned with investment vehicles which will enable them to participate in the future growth of the national economy.

In the 21-month rise in stock prices, popular issues reflected the willingness of buyers to pay a premium for shares which appeared to have a bright future. In the technical parlance of Wall Street, the new yardstick was the price-to-future earnings ratio. This meant that the buyer was willing to give the seller much of the advantage of future growth.

With 4,000 companies engaged in fifty major industries among the listed stocks on major stock enchanges, how does the prospective investor pick those with better than average growth potential?

One well-known investment counsellor, in addressing himself to this baffling question, offers a key to prudent action. "As a starting point," the analyst points out, "the investor should recognize that stocks, like human beings, have differing characteristics. The 'personality' of a given company stems from the nature of the industry in which it principally operates. Consider three companies each in a different kind of business:

"Company A is engaged in a regulated-rate-of-return industry supplying an essential and highly frequent repeat service, such as the telephone business. The regulated rates are a handicap in periods of rising costs. Moreover the low rate of return forces the company to finance the expansion of its facilities externally by selling additional shares of stock periodically, thus diluting the growth of earnings per share. Hence, its principal characteristic is stability of earnings and dividends plus modest growth.

"Company B manufacturers a capital-goods type of product like railroad cars or locomotives. The purchase of such products entails a large outlay of capital and is infrequent and postponable. The company's sales, earnings and dividends fluctuate violently from the top to the bottom of a cycle. (Monthly shipments of new freight cars average 8,364 in 1947 and 3,690 in 1958.) The chief investment characteristic of such a company is its cyclical or unstable nature.

"Company C (in the growth category) is engaged in a technological field, such as chemistry, where there is a continuous flow of new products which are either more economical or far superior to older types or serve entirely new purposes. Because new items create high profit margins and rapid sales growth, this company can finance research and plant expansion out of its own earnings without diluting the equity. Its major characteristic, therefore, is above-average growth of earning power and dividend-paying ability."

In addition to research-mindedness and stress on technological progress, a growth company should have a low ration of labor costs to total sales.

Historically, companies such as Abbott Laboratories, Celanese, Corning Glass, Dow Chemical, Eastman Kodak, Gulf Oil, Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing, Standard Oil (New Jersey), and Union Carbide have been among those with a strong propensity for growth.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters, with self-addressed, stamped envelopes, should be sent in care of this newspaper. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. (Dist. by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Newspaper Ads Refused; Truthfulness, Taste Stressed

New York — A survey by the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. shows that 219 U.S. and Canadian newspapers with a total daily circulation of 16,628,400 rejected advertising in 1958 amounting to $8,909,766.

The Association said that in this way daily newspapers "are constantly demonstrating their service to their readers by rejecting millions of dollars worth of advertising annually because it does not meet standards of truthfulness and good taste."

Replies from another 61 newspapers with a circulation of 4,398,022 indicated that they also reject any advertisement that fails to meet newspaper standards and truthfulness and good taste, but these newspapers were unable to estimate accurately the dollar volume of advertising turned down.

The publishers' group pointed out that estimates of dollar volume of advertising rejected are conservative since if the first advertisement in a campaign is refused the newspaper has no way of knowing how many other ads would have been ordered if the first had been accepted. Also newspaper policies are usually well known and individuals or business firms do not offer misleading advertising to newspapers but must seek other ways of dissemination.

ANPA General Manager Cranston Williams said the survey "is another clear-cut demonstration of the fact that the daily newspaper puts its integrity ahead of all other considerations in preserving its standing as a truthful source of information for readers and a means of disseminating truthful messages through advertising."

"Many newspapers point out that in rejecting misleading advertising they are preserving the standing of the newspaper as a vital community service," Williams said. "Insistence on standards of truthfulness and good taste also protects the majority of advertisers by insuring readers that they can depend on the statements of advertisers in newspapers."

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. One letter simply stands for another. In this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
